Show Updates

Into the Woods: Set load is coming up. The cast is excited for opening night.

Farndale Ave: Auditions were moved to February 4 & 5.

Scripts and licenses have been purchased for Unnecessary Farce, The Fantasticks, and Picasso at the Lapin Agile.

New Business:

REGINA wants to use the donated money earmarked for the readers' theatre group to buy a portable sound system for their performances. She will get recommendations from Steve Schmidt.

We discussed the possibility of changing the structure of our show season to begin with the fall show, and end with the summer show. If we did this for the 26-27 season, we would need to have something to announce for Summer 26 at this year's Taco Fest/Annual Meeting. MARCY suggested having a variety show/revue, which would feature the kids, the readers' theatre, and our regular production actors. We discussed moving the summer show time accordingly, to come right after the spring show, which would allow us to take our "break" in July and August, which might alleviate some of the burden from people being on vacation during the summer, which has been difficult for directors of the summer show to work around.

Old Business:

SUSAN is going to try out having the newsletter be a monthly feature. CLAIRE and MARCY sent her materials so she could feature Into the Woods in the January newsletter.

CLAIRE moved to adjourn. JANET seconded. APPROVED.

Meeting adjourned: 7:12pm
